Like other people have said, all of the mod team members do a have a life outside the internet. Jobs, family, and other responsibilities take priority, as they should. Dante is most likely the most overwhelmed of us all, with 4-5 projects within the C&C community going on right now. We were ready for release, but due to an unexpected corruption error in generating the final package, we've had to re-do the maps. Would you like to download a 200mb file and it not work at all? We didn't think so.
