By the way, I've upgraded(?) to an Acer netbook, so now all of you with monitors over 9 inches, and resolutions over 1024x600 have a mega-ultra advantage over me. In fact, people with discrete graphics cards should be required to take them out, and only play with Intel Integrated.

Plus, my keyboard is tiny so my hand cramps, meaning people with those fancy FULL SIZE keyboards are kinda-sorta cheating, and that upsets me.

The mouse that comes with it is also sucky. It's tinier than a chipmunk's nutsack; the rest of you totally have an advantage over me with your standard mice. That simply cannot be, so Ren players should only be limited to those CrApple mice with one button.

Also, the speaker is MONO, so I can't even tell what side shit's firing from. I'd use headphones, but my left ear is becoming deaf, so people with even just stereo sound have two advantages over me. Therefore, I demand Renegade no longer support sound whatsoever.
