I pretty much agree with everything EWD just said. He's right on the money. Plus, a release would mean even worse cheats would get made and released. I'm not a pro-coder at all, far from it. But having looked into this, it's quite obvious what is possible, and it's not nice. There would end up being some little ass turd rene coder who wants a name for themselves make, and release a horrid cheat.
