You have no clue how badly this symbol is a clear sign of Nazism in Europe, I think. Actually, I do. I lived in Germany for 3 years and I know how Germans react to swastikas.

However, Americans generally don't. Whoever he made this HUD for is probably just some stupid punk, but I doubt it's an actual Nazi.

Ok I have to ask, how did they react?

Unpleasantly. When I was 9 or so, my American friends and some of the neighborhood Germans decided to play war(yeah, we were those kind of kids), and someone called the German kids the Nazi team. An 11 year old kid punched him right in the face, and when his parents complained to the German's parents, they slammed the door in their face. The kid probably didn't even know what it meant, but that just goes to show how serious of a thing it is.

I understand your disgust about this, Goztow, I'm simply pointing out that the dude that made this probably has no idea what he's doing, and this is hardly a racist attack.
