
Subject: Re: Debate on Altruism.

Posted by reborn on Fri, 13 Feb 2009 12:07:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Spoony wrote on Fri, 13 February 2009 06:33

cheesesoda wrote on Thu, 12 February 2009 14:08 WHY did you do all of that administrating?

Because nobody else could be bothered. I never cared about anything I might have stood to gain as a result, and it certainly gave me more annoyance than satisfaction - as I knew it would before I even started it.

J_ball is asking why you did it, he isn't asking why other people didn't.

To act means you had to have a desire to act, performing the act fulfilled that desire.

You cannot act without motivation, whatever that motivation is, it is being satisfied by the act.
