Recently all of my fullscreen 3D applications started to minimize when you run them. If I try and restore the window, it restores and minimizes right away. I have not had any system changes aside from the few Windows Updates here and there, and was wondering if anyone else here has had the same problem.

The only two 3D applications I know this happens with are C&C 3: KW, and Renegade (the installer, can't keep it open).

I run dual monitors with Ultramon, and I have tried disabling Ultramon, as well as disconnecting my secondary monitor.

Has anyone else had a similar issue?
