I realize this post will probably be flamed all to hell but there is someone out there using a bot of some sort. Even if he had the big head cheat his bullets wouldnt have followed my head as quickly as they did. I mean, I was a sakura and he was a GDI soldier and he massacred 4 snipers in the span of seconds. It didnt matter how fast I moved (left right up down his bullets followed my head. I have his name but I dont have any proof of this actually occurring. I know there are 3-4 other people out there that will substantiate this claim tho.

Another thing i have to say about this wallhack. Does it mean that you are into a wall but can be seen at the other end? I know this is confusing, let me reiterate. I was playing WALLS_FLYING and this cheap lil bastard named Pedromdrp was on NOD and he was in the wall above the entrance to GDI base. When i say in the wall, i mean IN THE WALL. YOU could see his legs moving and at times other body parts. I got into a tank and started bombarding that area of the wall with shells and got a kill out of it. Is what he was doing what this wall hack consists of???
