hee hee beta is coming out SOON hee hee and here is proof from one of the members of the team -

Agent Gibson - "Once we get all the infantry in there and working the way I intend, the beta's going to be public. Accordingly, there will probably some servers up and there will be increased interest. In this form, it will be very playable and we can procede at adding more maps and extras at a more leisurely pace."

if you don't belive me look here
