In numerous parts of the Bible you will read that to God, a day is like a thousand years (as well as other similar metaphors). So I suppose it is possible that the Earth itself is very old, but mankind has only been existant for the 6000 years. I don't personally believe science and their billion year statistics they always pull out, but who is to say I am right or wrong. Do we really know anything about our own planet or ourselves for that matter? Not really.

calculates

7 times 1000 is 7000...

7000 minus 6000 is... carry the two...

OH MY GOD.

WAIT A MINUTE! THE EARTH IS STILL BEING CREATED BY GOD! BY GEORGE I GOT IT!

He's got 1 more day to do it. Or 1000 more years, for us slow bastards.

Now THATS a theory.
