Subject: Re: My project :)
Posted by archerman on Sun, 22 Mar 2009 17:07:34 GMT

DimitryK wrote on Wed, 18 March 2009 17:55Today I had nothing to do but being bored
So...I started searching for some random stuff on my computer. As I reached my "girls" section I started looking at some pictures. Then I got an idea

My project had started. I cleaned up my workspace and opened up photoshop. Resized the image a bit, saved it and opened it in a clean document. Then I started working.

This is my project:
Vectorizing an image. After vectorizing it I will be sending it to a company which will then create a notebook skin out of it. (Protects my notebook cover from scratches)

Reason for this project:
My study involves all kinds of graphical design. Photoshop, Illustrator, drawing, building websites etc. So I figured this would be some nice practice for future projects related to my study.

Original picture

Click to enlarge

Current progress

(Progress image will be updated every now and then...)

I think my project is working out pretty well, though the hardest part is still about to come. I started out very easy by creating the shirt, after that I'm going to work on the face. The face ain't that hard, but the eyes are a bit tricky.

The hardest part is her hair, this will take a lot of time, but who cares. If the final result is nice, then I'm satisfied.

Please tell me how you think of this she doesnt deserve this