We have the "most important exams of the year" next week (8 days from now).

The problem with that though, is that next week is when we GET BACK FROM SPRING BREAK!

I don't get how they expect us to do good on a 3 hour long exam (which isn't just that, but we have to take it 3 hours everyday for 4 or 5 days), right after getting back from a long week of sleeping in and forgetting everything we learned.
