insert_brain_here, the thread ISN'T supposed to get continuous posts. The thread only should be posted in for a couple of days where it sinks back to oblivion only to be revived several months down the line.

Is 'insulting' me supposed to make your post more valid or your e-peen hard?

I'm not even gonna start discussing the value of it being 'epic' cos i truly don't care if it's 'epic' or not.

Oh, and i'm sure when the topic was created the real intention for it was to be necroed every so often.

I know what we should do, let this thread die and post in it a few months down the line, then let it die again, then post in it again another few months down the line. See where i'm going with that? Or, you could even necro a thread from the last page with spam in it and keep doing it every so often.

If this thread isn't put in the HoF, at the very least it should go in the spam section.
