Not the best idea. There are still more units and weapons to be added, glitches to be resolved, and features to be coded. Just keep a steady pace with Renegade X's updates and you'll automatically know where we're at in terms of development. We don't keep [many] secrets concerning our progress

Says who?

I've seen some of the stuff you're working on. I can't wait to see that implemented into the everyday C&C Renegade
