I don't want to sound lazy but I really can't move it. There live 7, sometimes 8 people in this house who constantly use the pc's + my parents make from the smallest thing a big drama and I'm not up for that again lol.

I'll just gonna do what that other guy suggested and trash that USB thingy soon and get a wireless card... I know a guy from PC-Construct, specialised in Internet and making your own pc's. He is a good man I trust, he'll know what card I'll have to use.
