It makes me want to just leave the forums, but then the stupidity is so entertaining that you can't help but to come and laugh at people.

I pray to the Flying Spaghetti Monster that you are joking about what overclocking is.

You dont have to be a dick bro

You do realize that the comment wasn't directed toward you (for once), right? At least, you realize what overclocking is... and (once again) even if you didn't, you know enough by now to Google it...

Besides, there's no real denying that this forum is a cesspool of idiocy. Usually it goes without saying, but I had to comment on the question of what is overclocking is...

I know it was not to be but still I was like him once and know how it feels, Not everyone gonna be smart about things, specially on a gaming forums so you cant get mad you know its better to not reply then to reply negative. This forum needs to learn that badly
