Hey guys,

First off, I can't get back into my old login because I forgot the password and I've changed my email address.

That said, now that my college career is finally over, I've got my old computer back up and running, and it has a lot of the raw files from SWMOD, and probably a working .pkg and other stuff that might be of interest. Personally, I've got other stuff to take care of, but if someone is interested in sorting through all this stuff, maybe hosting a mirror for the random bits and pieces that might be useful, etc, let me know.

You can reach me in this forum, or catch me on AIM as programinbastad.

Peace.
