i got a billion dollars i just don't like to share i would argue the other side of the economic disaster when ppl are unsure of their financial future they cut back and stay home to avoid unnecessary spending, playing pc games would be a good cheap way to save some dough, its what i do, saved me a bundle as stated in the beginning about me now having a billion mc dollars, they should be growing instead of loosing as long as someone buys the rights off them im not fussed either way
