yes jpegs and jpgs are the same. (i think)

The reason gifs don't work is because only .TGAs and .DDS work.
basically the only way to have some sort of animation is to break down each frame and have them line up and use a fast Linear offset or a grid like im using.but so people can see all of them you would have to live with a 1Frame per second so all the other ads don't dissapper.

its the way the engine works, sorry.

but if you want something like a animation, just contact me (PM or MSN[Laser2150]) with each frame or just a banner.
