Zeratul, I understand you're new at this and all, so try zooming in and using the Line Tool. This will achieve straight lines, and you can hold shift down to keep the lines straight in any horizontal, vertical, and 45 degree diagonal direction.

Please don't post every skin you make as releases, especially when you're just learning the basics. I'm not having a go at you, but I wouldn't use those reticles at all.

I'm glad to see you're learning how to create reticles though.

EDIT: Spelling.

They look better in game when i filled the background in black it screwed up the lines... the first one on the other hand was entirely screwed up
