SeaManIf someone stole your work (using without proper credit and claiming it as their own), what would you do?

To be honest, it's happened to me and I don't care a whole hell of a lot - as long as they're not making a profit off of it, anyway. I find it complimenting that someone wants to use my work that bad.

An example being the PCT Icons that I made...Most people that use them do give me credit, but I've seen them in a few maps that don't and frankly I don't give a damn. Obviously I'd prefer having credit, but I don't care if I don't because I made the icons for that reason; so people could use them in their maps, not to glorify my own "status" in the "community".

Now obviously I definitely think people should get credit where credit is due, especially on something larger than PCT icons (Like a map, for instance). The larger and more work put into an item the more credit due, but I think people should focus more on making the game and mod community better instead of their portfolio.
