When I lost the election, I was pretty upset. I mean, when you work your butt off shaking people's hands, touring cross-country on a bus, giving a dozen speeches a day, you get tired, and when you lose, you do get kind of depressed.

But surprisingly, nothing makes me sadder than viewing a 'mod forum' topic on Renegade Forums. I mean, holy shit... this mod forum only has about a dozen people on it, and it only took those people to make me lose faith in humanity. I've been through the Cold War, I've been through week-long fillibustering, I've been through the fucking 'Hanoi Hilton' where I had bamboo shoots stuck in my fingernails, and yet it's people on a mod forum for a seven year old game that make ME want to put a plastic bag over my head.

I can't believe how much bullshit can arise from such shitty skins. God, Sarah Palin created less drama than you people, Yeah, I said it: all your Renegade skins look like shit. Renegade already looks like crap, which is forgivable, but the fact that people can make it look worse than crap is amazing. The Pentagon could use fan-created Renegade skins as mental warfare! Terrorists would look at the skins, and have their brains explode trying to comprehend why someone thought the skin was worth releasing in the first place.

I've already sent Ahmadinejad an email with a link to these forums. Wanna know why Iran is so fucking pissed off at North America and Europe? It's Renegade Forums - The Iranians are so pissed off at the idiocy in here that they just want to nuke us all to make the Earth a better place for humanity.

What's with all this HUD bullshit? If no one releases theirs, who gives a shit? Most of them look like ass, and it's not as if you have to be a genius to code one up. STOP BITCHING!

How about this 'bloom' concept? Who the hell actually thinks it's a good idea? God damn you'd get less eye damage if you looked directly in the Sun; but at least when you look at the Sun, you don't have to look at shitty skins made by morons who have the ability to open and edit W3D & dds files, but don't have the capacity to stop drooling.

I'm John McCain, and I now approve abortion.
