I don't actually use the vehicle bars btw, more of a "lets see what I can do in the moment" kind of thing

rofl, when I saw jnz's post I was so waiting for that.

Anyway, you guys are absolutely moronic to bitch about this again. Although I have building bars on my HUD, almost 90% of the time I forget they're there and end up hitting K. And when I do remember I have them, it still takes time to look to the corner of my screen, scan over the much smaller text than the K menu to see which one is which, then figure out the health of all the buildings. I ended up just using K because it's so much easier to read.

But yeah, whatever. I win games because of my building bars. Sorry.
