Good luck with that. Not many servers are "overcrowded" these days and whiners are everywhere. Just ignore them and play on a server with the player count and settings you like.

Pretty much all you'd see if you ask this open-ended question is people advertising theirs without knowing what it is you're actually looking for. Is there somewhere you used to play that you liked that isn't around anymore?

Yes, I used to play RxD (yep, that ilegal server thing) and i really liked it there was a max 11 v 11 players so it didn't lag because of people.

I also play storm coop sometimes, and i played on exodus once with Reaver.
I'll hop by some of them then.
