Check out that link, there is a tonne of usefull information there.

For infantry skills, check out this video demonstrating the use of V aim. However I personally prefer to alter my controls to make V one of my mouse buttons.

It takes practise so you could maybe you could try playing single player mode purley to practise V aim, once you master it, you'll get sick of the boink noise cuz u hear it so often

Check out the rest of shodan234's videos on youtube, orca234 on this forum
