With 1.037, when you download the latest patch through the auto downloader, it gets stuck at 99 %. You then need to press cancel and it still does install (I think).

This is very confusing. Is this a specific 1.037 related problem or a problem with the ren patch system? If so, it would probably be neat to first send in a quick patch to fix the ren auto patcher, before sending in the patch itself?
