Zack wrote on Sat, 26 September 2009 22:09We'd like to postpone until tomorrow. I didn't take into account that BlackIntel's time.php doesn't take care of Daylight savings time which is what I go by for cross-timezone events.

Tomorrow at same time would be preferable...

EDIT: Roy645 is going to speak on behalf for St0rm from now on.
You seem to be saying that you had a team ready one hour late, while we both know this isn't true. Most of our players were still online one hour later and there wasn't a single St0rm player online.

If we'd play tonight, then at what time? Roy, can you add me on msn (see my profile for msn)?

I can't promise we'll have a lot of players online tonight, as we're already having trouble meeting the 10 player requirement. However, even if it's "only" 5v5 or 6v6, we'll play for fun .
