I am presuming that you won't be on renforums then

Why you have to be such a dick?

Honestly? Because I think you're making a fool out of yourself by asking questions that you could've answered yourself easily if you would use google.
Also from your questions it seens like you have in no way any kind of "plan" or "path" laid out for yourself about what you want to learn, what you can learn and possibily how to learn it.
Here I'm for example pointing at your computer topics, ranging from learning PHP to learning C++ to learning how to build a computer.
I don't think you're stupid. Let that be clear. I just dislike people that don't show own initiative. I think that one should at least try to do something that he/she wants to do, and then if you get stuck you can ask for help. Just try to find an answer yourself first, then when that fails, try again. If you've done that for a couple of times either you'll have learned yourself something, or you can still ask all of us.

You don't know anything about me so please keep your comments to your self, I dont mean to be rude I am not starting a flame, god knows these forums had enough of this, you must see I have been getting better at not trolling these forums, and only pc language Im learning is c++ the others like PHP where stuff related to something I was doing not no major life decision. So please I am not being disrespectful to you, please call it truths or keep your comments to yourself. I mean tons of people here piss me off in these forums but I keep my mouth shut much as possible.
anyways this is question i wont rely on google, just like my friend says dont ever trust a recruiter and talk to someone who actually went thru it, so since im sure there has to hopefully be at least one person on here since I dont know any military vets or such in person, I decided to ask here.
I'm not saying that you're doing that with this question. This is indeed such question that makes sense to ask, as you like to hear experiences from other people, preferably that you know.
But there where questions in the past that you could've just as easily google'd as you could post them here.
Ya I know which is why iv been getting better.
