the reason people stopped playing like a year ago spoony was because you left the league in the hands of a complete moron like wiskey who ran the league into the ground because of how unfair he ran the league and how he would manipulate his own rules to get a win out of anything.
once wiskey gave up running the league there was no admin(yes he cares so much that rather then look for a new admin he'd just dump the league the way he made it, a disgrace) even if any of this is true, and given your track record of criticising renadmins i'm not terribly convinced, how is this an argument against me? did I ever do anything like this when i was running the league?

simpee and clearshot have tried to argue that i did, although they had to lie again and again and again to try to make the point... you wanna see if you can do better?

keep up the good work Thumbs Up ah right. so liquid said nothing bad to hitman but hitman insults him, and this proves hitman is not a valuable clan member and i'm an idiot for thinking he is?

then what the hell is simpee+clearshot and what the hell are you? i never did anything wrong to simpee or clearshot, and yet they go to INCREDIBLE lengths to attack me; they post huge lists of accusations to try to make me look bad, all of them lies. so by your own logic they're not valuable clan players, the league's better off without them, and your judgement is as bad as you're making mine out to be.
