It looks pretty cool, I like it. I think bots used to be banned from XWIS, and Olaf didn't want anything but actual renegade clients connecting. However, if all this is used for is chatting, then there's nothing malicious about it...

Nice one, and well done!

Well, I doubt that. Seye and me have seen plenty of bots roaming about XWIS...

That is still the case. The rule was intended to keep malicious and harvesting bots off I would think. But, sadly, strike-team is completely incompetent so the rules are not enforced.
