drive you away? you mean the fact you told the jelly community that you think we should only get half the ladder because were not using your pointsfix? if so then obviously some people are going to take that badly cause people like simpee etc obviously hate the pointsfix maybe they didnt have to bring shit up which happened in the past to try and discourage people to play it(i agree maybe it was a bit too much) but still its obviously clear you intimidate them because of how ridiculously far you go to get this points fix on every server( you can't say you didnt try discouraging people to play in jelly because they would only get half the ladder then in a pointsfix server)

your both as bad as the other in this regard if anything each of you is trying to drive away the other
