FaggotFox is for people who need 500 plugins to browse the web, or are hipster faggots and are just using it because their hipster faggot friends are.
I use Opera because it is faster than Firefox,(what I used before), and that was used because IE was unsecure(what I started using).
Firefox LIED. They are not the fastest!

FaggotFox are nowhere near the fastest. It's a fat, bloated browser that eats your RAM for a snack. Opera 10 (The current version as far as I know) might be faster than FaggotFox, but it's sort of hard not to be faster. In any case, Opera 10 isn't as good as Opera 9, and isn't nearly as good as Chrome.
lol, I find it funny that awhile after posting my message I was searching on the internet for CoD:MW2 multiplayer titles, got redirected to a fake virus scan site which automatically installed a trojan to my computer.
I WAS using Opera, but now I know better. I will only use Opera on trusted sites(such as this one).
Internet Searching:
Better to be safe & slow than sorry and scanning your entire computer for 20x as long as it would have been to use firefox + all my addons (which are anti-rick roll, ad-block and Stylish [used to turn white pages black for saving ATP and not annoying me], as well as no-scripts and anti-autoplay, are apparently for hipster faggots).

We'll see how long you continue to switch off browsers. Chances are it won't last (Although if you keep it up, more power to you). In any case, you're presenting a false choice of either fast or safe, when you can have both with Chrome.
