But then again, as long as you don't implement pointsfix in Renegade-X, the complete economy will be broken anyway because one can gain 100's of credits by shooting a vehicle without damaging it.

This kind of proves that you don't play Renegade X. We implement a system very similar to pointsfix. If you didn't know that, then how could you make such detailed statements as to how our mod sucks?

Because you claimed that you would implement the bugged system. Probably to get good PR with at the time the pointfix was (again) under discussion.
