Symantec did use to have a firewall which was okay, but there products show that there service is useless. Install avast and see how many more viruses it picks up than Norton(Useless). The firewall might be an exception, but Windows Firewall is okay as when you run a IIS on your pc you will see no one will be able to join whilst the firewall is up.