Currently my choice of free AV is Microsoft Security Essentials... I have heard several reports of AVG being a resource hog so I don't intend to use that again, and Avira, while good, has an extremely irritating habit of popping up adverts asking you to upgrade to the full version every few hours...