maytridyArm-Ent was the best, and always will be.

Vlad was a good man, he gave so much, paid so much, and for what?! NOTHING! He spent thousands of dollars a year for almost nothing in return.

When I tried to make my own dev. network, I understood pretty quick that it was impossible for me to pay that much money alone.

I guess that Vlad didn't get that one, you have to get others to pay for it too, it's like, impossible to afford all this alone, unless you really have a good job like dante.
