i suppose it's futile asking to reschedule it, but i don't think i can stomach clanwars being "represented" by scum like nextkill, a cheater + pointpusher + someone who has several times boasted of ddosing clanwars.

i fully intended to show up for this and would've probably got a decent turnout (and incidentally i would've not allowed nextkill or punx to play even if it meant playing handicapped) - i was just honestly under the impression that it was 9pm tonight, not last night. and considering the fact our previous "forfeit" was a bit of a joke, do you really want to win the tournament that way?
