wait..what? Does he not like downloading? Does he even know what downloading is?!

I don't understand why he'd be scared of downloading, unless you're downloading porn, extremist video or something depicting the death of barney the dinosaur.

everyone in the house thinks if you download ANYTHING it equals a virus and thats what they taught the kid... funny how the person who knows the most about computers (me) is being planned to get kicked off and they expect me to help fix what i cant play... thats great...
