I finally found something that has put Renegade on the sideline the last few days ... My girlfriend had the first 4 seasons of Smallville (a TV series about how Clark Kent came to be Superman). Sadly I haven't been able to pay attention to both at the same time, and Smallville has been winning. And we just picked up seasons 5 and 6 on the way home. There are 9 seasons out so far and I got a feeling it will be a marathon untill we are all caught up. It is a good series though, I would recommend it at least.
