She hopped into a conversation I was having on st0rm's IRC about their language filter and warnings it gives (mainly how it doesn't warn mods, therefore they don't have to follow the rules they enforce)... She was not very pleasant, I can't understand why any gaming community would put someone in her position with such a bad reputation of being an e-bitch.

That's some backwards ass logic...

Yea... their filter is just all sorts of retarded. You can write some variances of "bad" words without warning. The part about the mods was just dumb, I got warned for saying "fuck", then a mod was like,

"lol"

"fuck"

"fuck"

"fuck"

"ha ha I can say it, you can't"...

Something along those lines anyway.

I went to IRC and asked why they even had a filter... She came into the conversation after about 5 mins and said something like, "because we do, deal with it, it is not gonna change"... but with more bitchy attitude.

I could understand a server having a "no swearing" policy as long as the staff has to follow it aswell.
