Subject: Re: brenbot plugin needed

I have no idea, I don't really know how the bot works. I know that on my APB server we have brenbot, and that moderators need to authenticate themselves. Therefore somewhere there must be a check that says something like if (player == mod)insistonauth(player);
I assumed that if this is what's happening, then it must also be possible to do something similar, but check when they have !auth'ed if they are a mod, or something...

I know that in my APB server, Oxi wrote something like this. I just know too little about br/other regs.
