What amount of ads?
We have a single ad per page. Either a top horizontal banner on hosted sites and feature pages, or a tower ad on the front page of PCNC itself and our forums.

There's the odd interstitial that comes up once a week or so (if you coockies are working properly). And no pop ups, unless you have spyware on your PC (use Ad-Aware to get rid of spyware and no popups).

One ad is not a bad price to pay for a stable network, professional tech support, e-mail accounts, unlimited bandwidth and unlimite storage, as well as the promotion of the GameSpy Network. Is it?

Amount of ads my ass.....
