Of course not! I won't forget the Nod logos and crimson stripes on the tail.

Allright all...I got your names down for the Apache!

So I could not do anything due to ridocules weather. Today I was able to spray it with primer. The primer penetrates all the tiny holes in the metal and helps the paint to stick.

Looking good lol