This let's you access the purchase terminal and buy something, but also makes you enter the vehicle.

When you exit the PT screen, you'll be in the 'Jesus position' with your arms out in a similar position to that screenshot.

Most people know this, but it's still kinda funny.

happened to me once when i parked a light tank in the hon in co op so i did it a second time to see what happened and learned about that. Yes it is kinda funny
