Its been dying for awhile now and when these new games come out all that will be left is you people, still saying how the game is not dead. Just accept it in the next 3 months there will probly be less than 150 regular players and thats it.

Lets see...

September 2003 then, March 2010 now.

... that must be a reeeeeaaaalllly long 3 months, eh?

(yes, I realize it's a 7 year old bump and the person quoted only had 30 posts at the time)

That.

Was awesome.

Also, there's atleast 400 people that still play Rene (Estimate). Unlike the nubs pulling numbers from there arse's from 7yrs ago, this is actually true.

This topic should be made an Anouncement, and/or put in 'the hall of fame'
