Halo38Nice but.....

Quote:Images are allowed, but please remember that not everyone is running at 1280x1024 resolution

Please try to remember that images larger than the users browser will "stretch" the entire forum tables out, so either resize your images before posting them, or upload them to the n00bstories.com Image uploader so that the users can view them in a seperate window (also this will keep the forum from running slow because of serving many inline images).

I agree should have toned it down a little and added a link so you could make it bigger n another browser...

I am running at 1280x1024 anyway.
