Lol. I go into tunnels because i know that i am almost always going to be one of the best snipers on the team (not being cocky, i just have a thing for sniping in renegade). If my team needs more vechs in field though, then that is what i will do. I'm not there to get most kills, but i am there to have fun, and hopefully win. If my team is controlling field well, and the other team is taking tunnels, then ofc i'm going to go snipe, as tunnel control can really make a break a team very easily.
