He supposedly hacked into his emails and facebook, and changed the password. He then gave them back like 1.5 days later, after Anthrax had a huge fit about it. Sure it was illegal, but it's not like he committed murder or anything (like you are making it seem).

He did know what they were saying behind his back, because he read their pm's on the forums...after being suspicious. That is why many of them are mad, they feel they were invaded...which is a bunch of shit, because they were the ones sneaking around starting shit.

Thanks for that statement. As I said once they have the balls to deny what I said on a public forum, or keep crashing our server, then I will post those logs.

As for right now, this is Part 1(log portion) of what I told you all about with Anthrax's emails/facebook. You can scroll down on the ts3 log, to see the convos. Shinji = Xpert. I must say, TS3 blows at making logs.

I admit that first night on TS I was finding it funnyish...until I started talking with Anth, and seeing it for what it really was. We also chatted on the Exodus TS3, when I was calming him down and giving him some info on what he could do legally. Sorry, I didn't record.

In the zip there's the TS3 one, d|laptop=dippy, Trojan gave me his convo with Anthrax, my convo with Xpert the next day, and before I was banned I had all my PM's sent to my email, there's the screen shot of my hotmail.

Part 2 of will be the invisible topics Anthrax made that I didn't want him in more trouble for. It was when he was rightfully raging. Anthrax you are fucking famous now, may I get an autograph?

Now you can thank Dippy for me doing this much, by calling me a liar to others today(while I was out finding work). Call me a liar in public on the November PM reading incident please, then it's going to get nastier.
