Ok, let me get this shit clear about this whole PM reading thing, etc. These are Atomix's second forums. Our first ones were lost. I had a person named Hawk (some people know him on IRC as NotHawk or Tyler, or whatever other 1000 names he had), but I had him re-do the Atomix forums. Eventually I removed him for being inactive. Then a week before the incident in November, I was looking through the emails that's connected with my site info and I found messages from the forums. It was the forums sending me emails every time someone made a new one as if it was a PM to me. I freaked out. I knew it wasn't from IPB itself because I've had version 2.3.4 before and I never had that occur ever. So every time I got the messages, I would just delete them. Then that day came a week later where I was on a "rampage" due to an incident in my family. So a few people were on a revolt against me talking about making a new community and all that. So while reading emails, I got those PM messages again. I read 3 of them and only 3 of them. 1 was a PM sent from Armani to RenGirl and the other 2 were from Speedy to Dippy. Those 2 pms contained stuff about the whole "take over Atomix" whatever stuff. Long story short, that passed on, got stopped from there and things were resolved for now at that time. But I was still under heat about the pm reading. I don't feel good about it myself and I read them anyways. So I googled and looked around for awhile. I couldn't find a solution. So I upgraded the IPB to 2.3.6. By then I realized, it stopped. I didn't get the emails again. I will still under heat about the whole PM thing so I even told shai, I don't know where it comes from, and I remember sending a screenshot to someone about it to maybe help me find the problem. I even told Shai to ask Hero to look around the web stuff since he was our web admin at that time. To my understanding, nothing came up.

Thank you that is all I needed. P.S. Although I threatened to just give logs(including the personal bits) I wouldn't have really.

Now fast forward, this brings me to today, I went and talked to Hawk who happened to be on IRC. I asked him about it but I have a feeling he's lying so whatever.

Yeah I liked that convo, it was cool. So was his with me. One of you is a liar, and really it matters little. The point was you like to read PMs.

Each time you would delete all admin tracks in the Admin CP for the forums. Did you seriously think dippy/Hero/myself never noticed, or talked about it?

So I'm gonna say it again, I can't read pms on these forums. And password stealing? I don't have that either. So you can hop off of me for that. If you want proof, look up IPB stuff on it. I came across this while googling:

I do not give a damn how you did it, the fact is you did it. You gave that community a shit name with your actions in doing so.

The only people getting other people involved in this mess is the people who I booted or left Atomix.

Do you know how that started? Simple enough. When I told them I was leaving they wanted to know why. Wanted me to stay. Wanted you to go.

Funny how telling people you care about the truth of how you feel, it rallies them together. I wanted to walk away, noone would let me. Can you say the same of the ones left there?

We look like the bad guys here because we were the first to take action. This thing has been in works for ages. It's just now finally being executed just because everyone finally got booted.

You were 4 steps ahead of me, you said. How was it you were so smart knowing what I would do, when I didn't even know what I was going to do?

Were you four steps ahead of me that night in TS? I admit that was pretty petty of me, but I put more in that TS than you did with the permissions. You shouldn't have banned & zlined everyone.

You weren't ahead of me in anything unfortunately. Bitching out Rengirl because she didn't tell you weeks sooner, when you found out last week, was kind of funny. It wasn't her fault.

If you had known it would not have taken you so long to bring it to a boil, now would it? Forums go down, TS goes down, yeah that wasn't predictable.

If you had bothered to talk with me, you would have had the answer of what I was thinking. If you and dippy cared about your community you would have tried, you have only yourselves to blame.

You care about yourself, period. Dippy cares about admining. Sad that his motto is "I've seen owners come and go". It means he doesn't care about his people...just the "place".

I do like the shit dippy has been spreading about how I boycotted the server, lied about the PMs, lied about the Anthrax stuff. Once again Xpert, I thank you for the post. I do not need to do logs or the other I was planning. You screwed yourself far better and cleaner than I could have.

Most of the time I wasn't even on, because of how I felt about the whole fucking thing. When I was on I wasn't really there.

Hell when/if this blows over. Have a chat with Trojan(or me) and you can see for yourself how things went down. I did not want the split, he knows it, the rest know it.

Yes I did make a few contingencies of what I would do for the ones who followed me. That is what we of the human race call "leadership", you might learn it some day. I used to manage people far longer than you before I left Illinois.
