Ah, but now you are talking about something totally different.

There is a difference between "spamming" in a dead thread and "derailing" a popular thread.

The latter is what needs to be avoided and moderated.

yes, but spamming a dead thread still distracts and that needs to be split or locked and moved which in turn wastes a mod or admin's time... derailing a popular thread yes... it is a different thing entirely but all in all wastes time of members, mods, and admins... which in turn makes that much worse due to the fact it wastes more peoples time in other words... you are correct, but at the same time BOTH still distract and waste time...
