It'd be really great to see some really good SP missions in a mod, just like you described, but many mods only seem to be focusing on the MP part. There's bound to be some eventually though...

As for another C&C FPS, I'd have to say somewhere either between RA and C&C or some other completely new area yet to be explored in another C&C game.

Edit: Is something stretching out the page? It's a little annoying.
